

If...

- The 193 United Nation Member States signed a joint document on the worldwide guidelines to fight against the antimicrobial resistance...
- The Italian Parliament implemented 7 motions to decide the strategy to be adopted against the infections caused by the antibiotic-resistant bacteria...
- The British Government commissioned a research on the resistance to bacteria, research that concludes by stating that the casualties caused by superbugs will exceed those affected by cancer within 2050, if nothing happens in the meantime...

And since

- Casualties from Klebsiella Pneumoniae and from Clostridium Difficile – just to name but two are too many to count, but anyway are hundreds of thousands, given that most of them is to be found in the list of casualties from septicemia...
- Patients suffering from meningococcus seem to pop up...

And if etc.... etc... etc...

DO WE REALLY THINK WE ARE SAFE???

VICTORY: THE BACTERIA'S KILLER, unfortunately can do so little for people who have already been infected, but can easily help and defend those who have not been affected by the infection yet.

“IT MUST NOT BE YOU THE PATIENT!!!
